eventually i came to conclude that i could not find real knowledge in academic life, only hierarchies of knowledge that led, ultimately, to more hierarchies, not to more knowledge beware, you need to know how to use them